

Islamic Studies

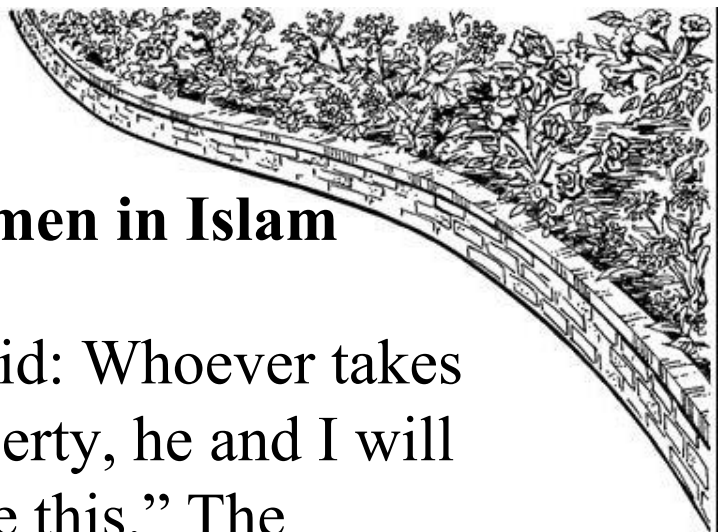

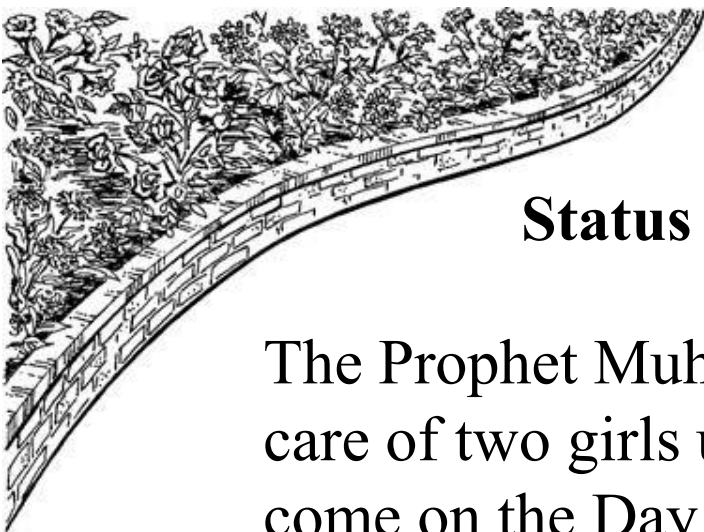

Rights of Women in Islam

MLO 10.1.6

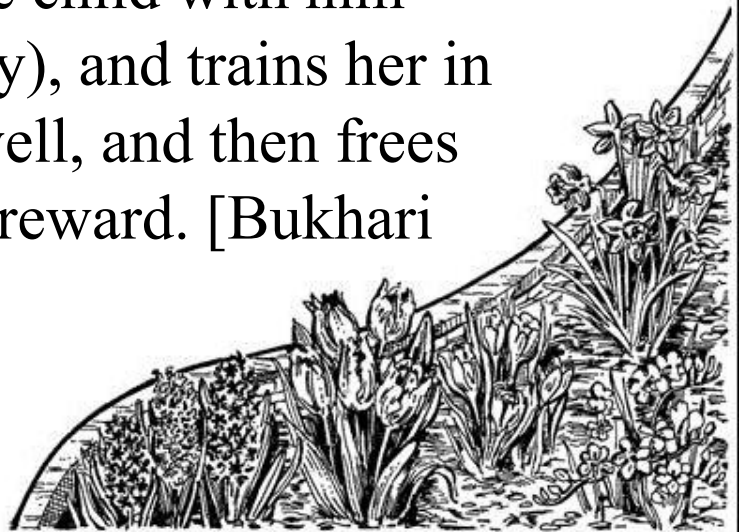

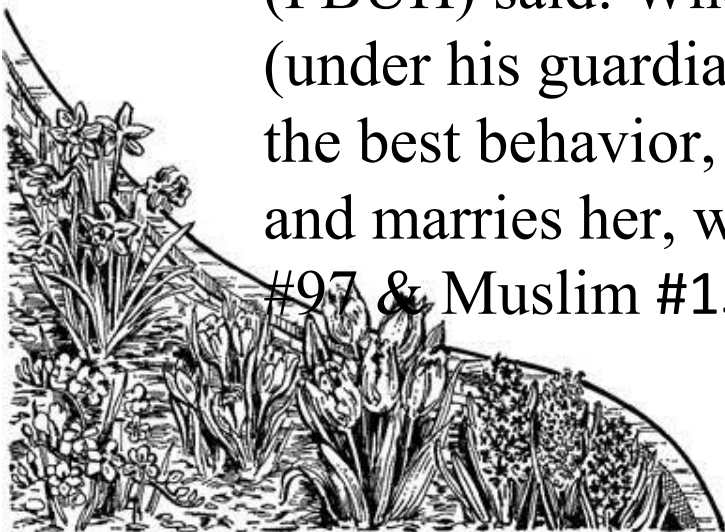

Describing how Islam treats women with respect and equality, emphasizing their roles, rights, and mutual responsibilities in family and society.

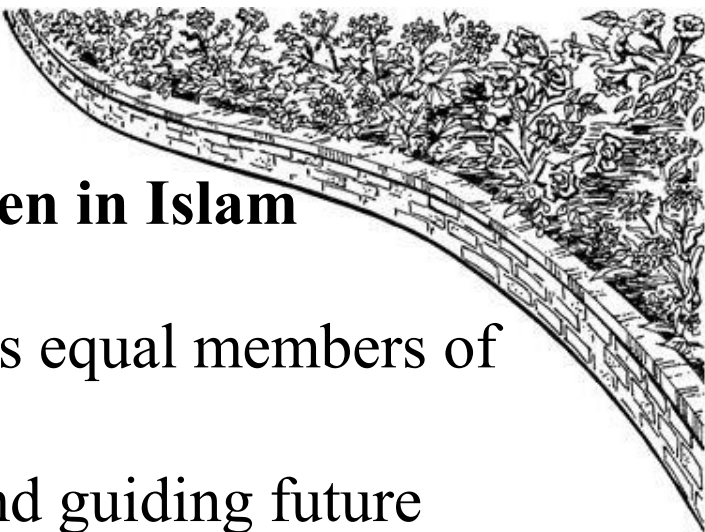

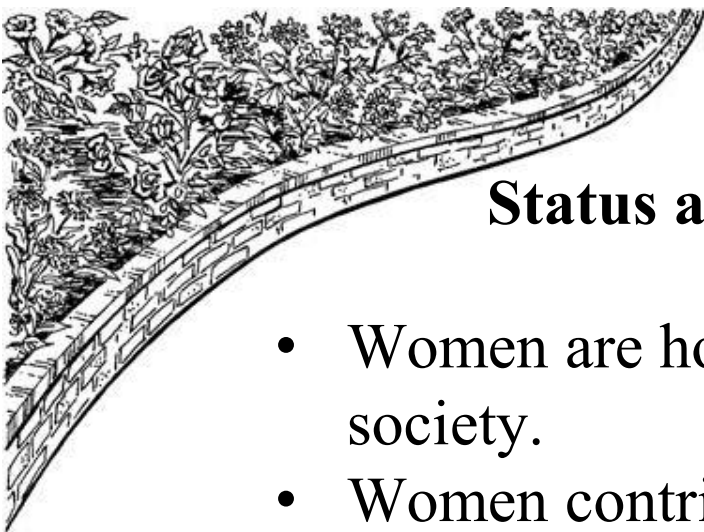

Status and Rights of Women in Islam

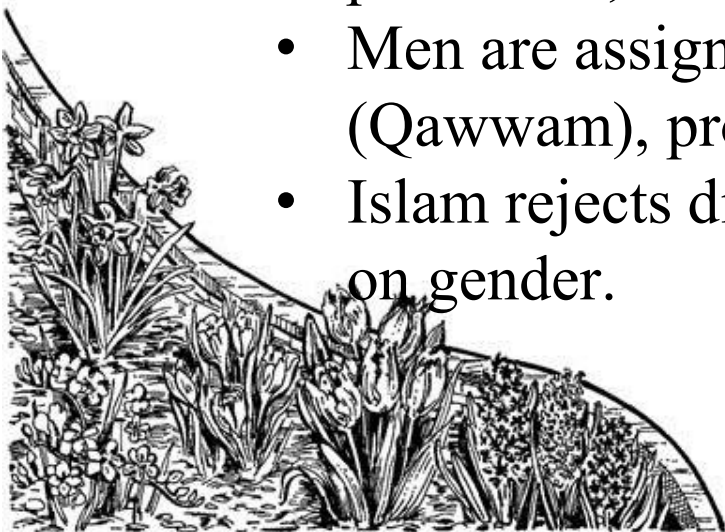

The Prophet Muhammad (PBUH) said: Whoever takes care of two girls until they reach puberty, he and I will come on the Day of Resurrection like this.” The Messenger of Allah (SWT) (peace be upon him) then joined his fingers to illustrate this. [Muslim #2631]

About female slave girls, the Prophet Muhammad (PBUH) said: Whoever has a female child with him (under his guardianship from slavery), and trains her in the best behavior, and teaches her well, and then frees and marries her, will have a double reward. [Bukhari #97 & Muslim #154]

Status and Rights of Women in Islam

- Women are honored and valued as equal members of society.
 - Women contribute to nurturing and guiding future generations.
 - Islam recognizes women's rights to education, property ownership, and social participation.
 - Husband and wife provide mutual love, support, protection, and companionship.
 - Men are assigned the responsibility of guardianship (Qawwam), protection, and maintenance
 - Islam rejects discrimination and mistreatment based on gender.
-
- 