Pillars of Islam: The pilgrimage
(Hajj)

MLO 4.1.4

Distinguishing the types of Hajj—Mufrad, Tamattu, and Qiran—and differentiating Hajj from Umrah based on obligations, timing, and rituals.

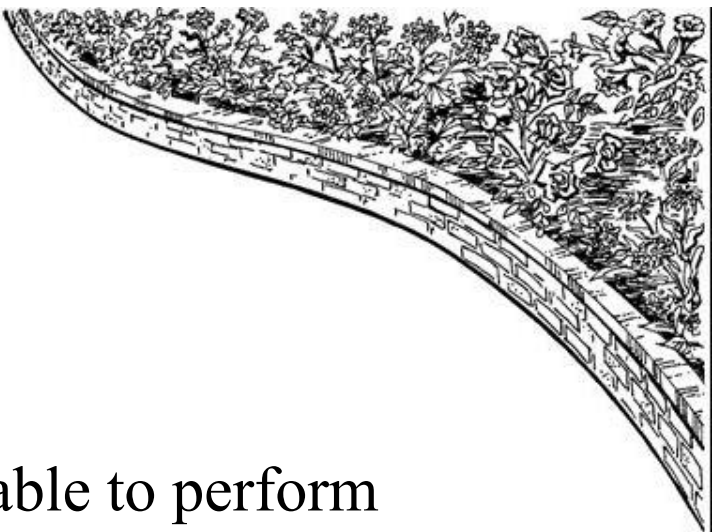

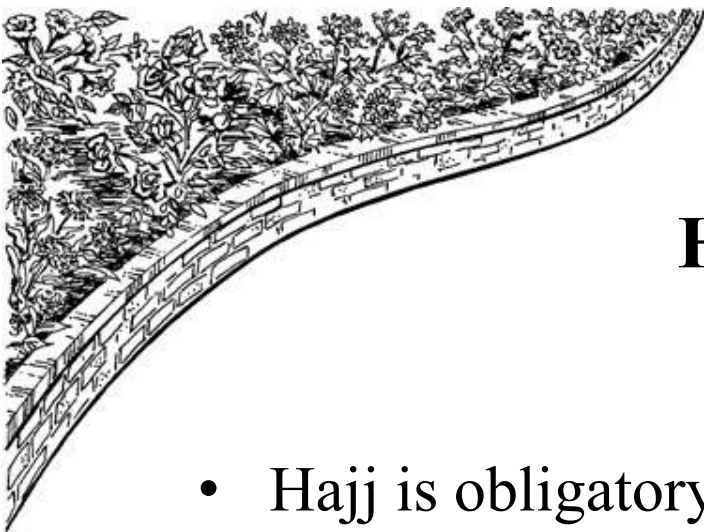

Types of Hajj

Hajj Mufrad: Hajj only; no Umrah is performed.

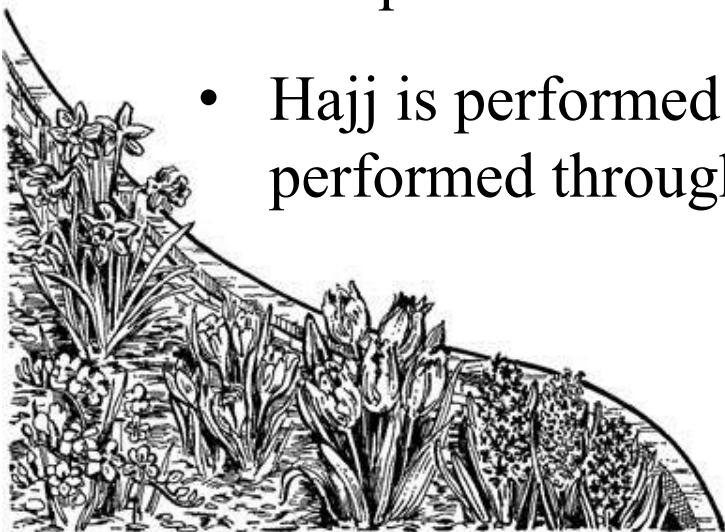

Hajj Tamattu: Umrah is performed first, then Hajj.

Hajj Qiran: Umrah and Hajj are performed together in one Ihram.

Hajj and Umrah

- Hajj is obligatory for those who are able to perform it.
 - Umrah is a Sunnah of Prophet Muhammad (PBUH).
 - Hajj takes several days, while Umrah can be completed in hours.
 - Hajj is performed in Dhul-Hijjah; Umrah can be performed throughout the year.
