Rights of Parents and Children

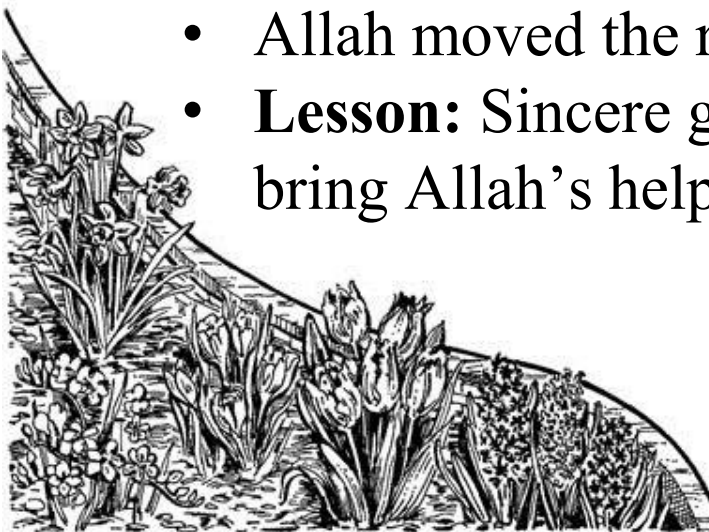

MLO 9.2.3

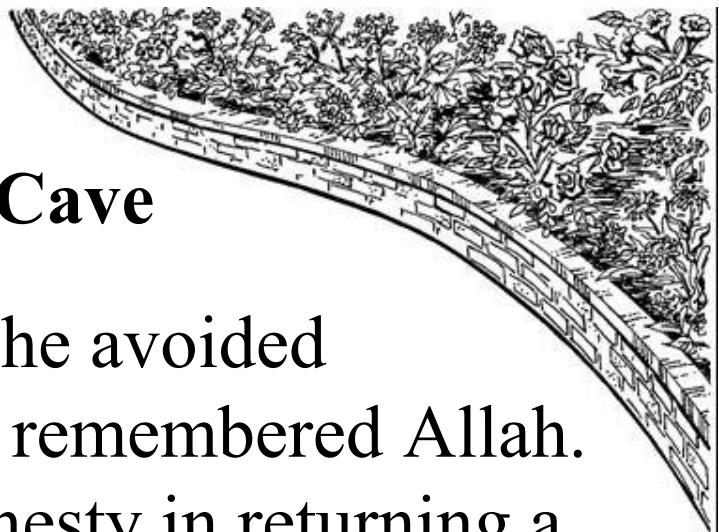

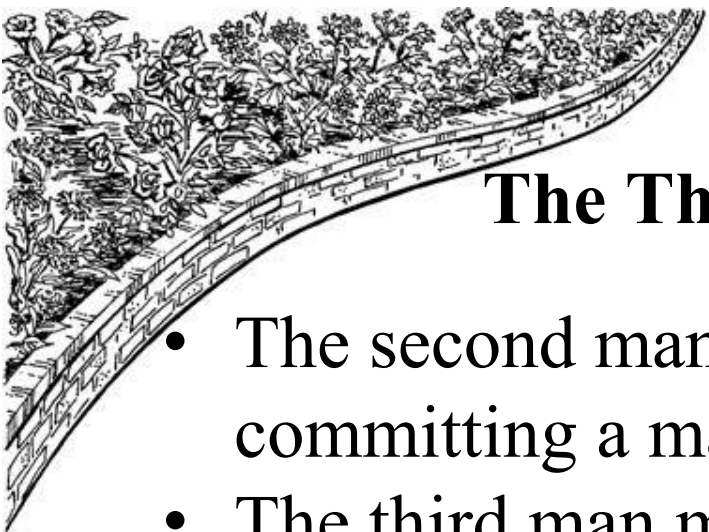

Explaining the importance of honoring parents in Islam, interpreting Quranic verses and Hadith, and distinguishing dutiful behavior from sinful actions.

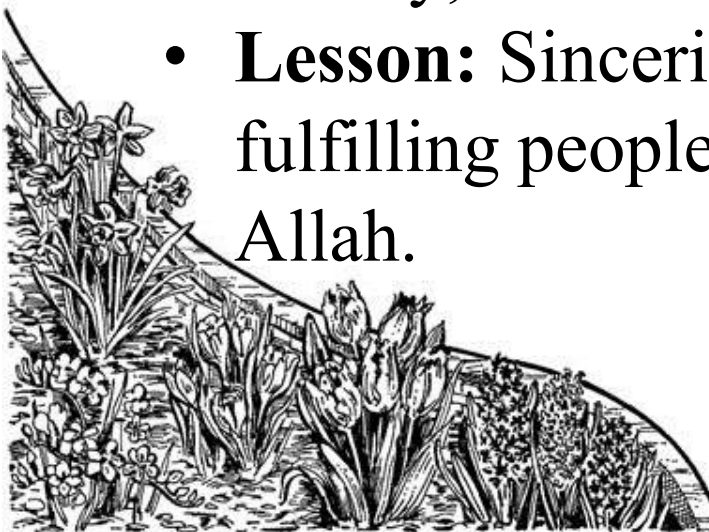

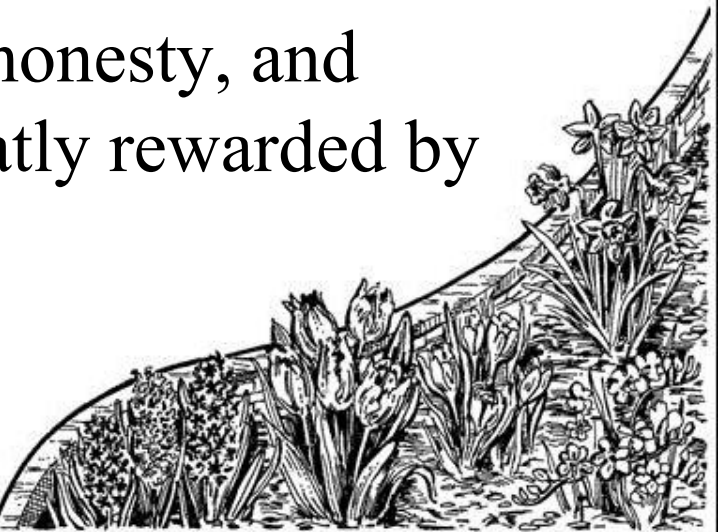

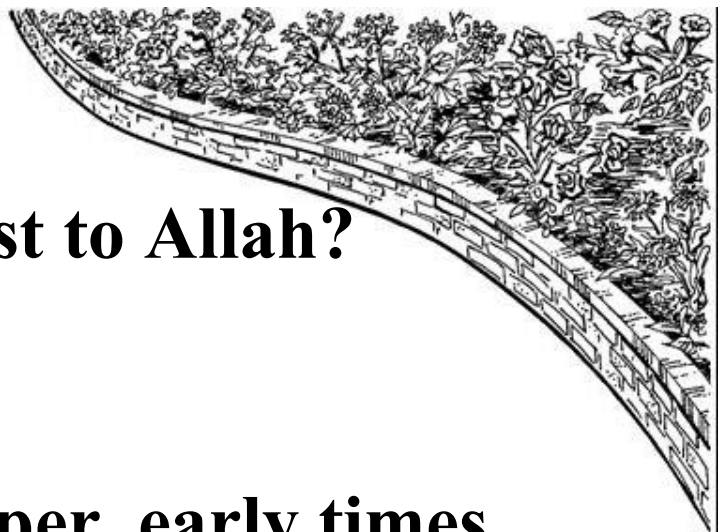

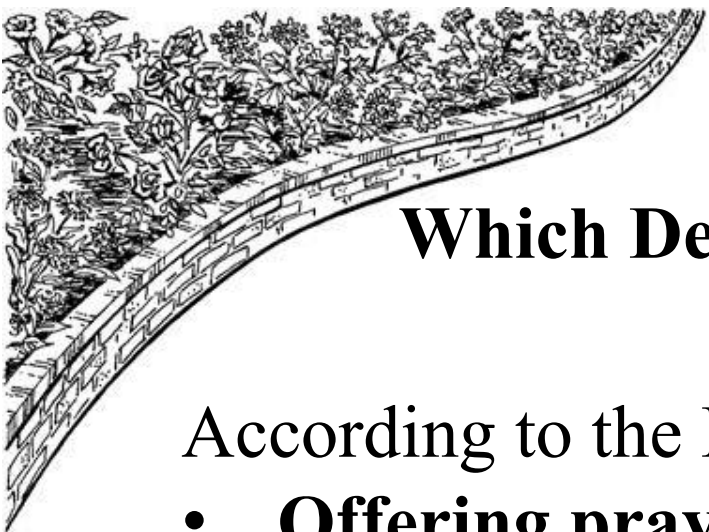

Story of Three persons (The Three Men in the Cave)

- Three men were traveling when heavy rain forced them to take shelter in a cave.
 - A large rock rolled down and blocked the entrance.
 - They decided to pray to Allah by mentioning their sincere good deeds.
 - The first man mentioned his devotion to his elderly parents.
 - Allah moved the rock slightly.
 - Lesson: Sincere good deeds and kindness to parents can bring Allah's help.

The Three Men in the Cave

- The second man mentioned that he avoided committing a major sin when he remembered Allah.
 - The third man mentioned his honesty in returning a worker's wages, including the wealth that had grown from them.
 - After each sincere prayer, the rock moved further.
 - Finally, the rock was completely removed.
 - Lesson: Sincerity, self-control, honesty, and fulfilling people's rights are greatly rewarded by Allah.

Which Deed Is the Dearest to Allah?

According to the Prophet : ﷺ

- Offering prayers at their proper, early times.
- Being good and dutiful to parents.
- Striving in Allah's cause.
- Key Message:

Prayer, respect for parents, and sincere effort in Allah's cause are among the deeds most beloved to Allah. (Bukhari -Narrated Abdullah bin umar-1:505)

Great Sins

The Prophet ﷺ mentioned among the greatest sins:

- Associating partners with Allah (Shirk).
- Being undutiful to parents.
- Killing a person unjustly.
- Giving false testimony.

The Prophet ﷺ also taught that abusing another person's parents can lead to a person's own parents being abused.

- Key Message:

We should worship Allah alone, honor our parents, respect human life, and always speak the truth.
